

Emergency Medicine and Trauma education day

Dow University of Health Sciences, Baba-e-Urdu Road Karachi

13 January 2018 (Saturday) 10am—1pm ARAG auditorium

1000-1010am	Introduction
1010-1030am	Managing life threatening traumatic haemorrhage in a patient on novel anticoagulation drugs Dr. Rizwan Qureshi Consultant Emergency Medicine, Liverpool Hospital, South Western Sydney Local Health, NSW Australia. Conjoint Lecturer University of New South Wales
1035-1055am	Acute management of severe burns Dr Asim Shah Consultant Intensive care & Emergency Medicine, Concord Repatriation General Hospital (Regional Burns Centre) Sydney Local Health District, NSW, Australia
1100-1120am	Team leading in Trauma Dr Ashfaque Ahmed, Consultant Emergency Medicine and Medical Educationist , North Middlesex University Hospital NHS Trust, London, UK
1125-1145pm	Cardiology update: interesting cases Dr Imran Kassam, Consultant Cardiologist and Electrophysiologist Macquarie University Hospital, Sydney, NSW, Australia. Conjoint Lecturer University of New South Wales
1150-1210pm	Acute management of respiratory failure and role of non- invasive ventilation Dr Zafar Usmani, Consultant, Respiratory & Sleep Physician, Central Adelaide Local Health Network, South Australia
1215-1235pm	Australian Medical council exams , medical training and job opportunities
1240 –1:00pm	Discussion/ Q&A

